

Integrator Interviews

Senior Ed Hawxhurst

by JERRY GOULD

For the final issue of the Integrator, 1951-52 season, we have chosen for the personality of the week Edwin Hawxhurst, retiring manager of campus station WNTC.

Ed was born in Huntington, Long Island on September 16, 1928 and has lived there all his life. As an undergraduate at Huntington High School he was a three letter man. He won his letter in basketball, track and baseball. In his junior year he was president of his class. In June of 1946 he graduated from high school and the following September enlisted in the Army.

Penguin Service

From September 1946 to July 1948, Ed served with Uncle Sam. His first assignment took him to Fort Lewis, Washington where he received his basic and from there went to Anchorage, Alaska where he was assigned to the signal corps. From Anchorage he moved to Aclak in Aleutians where he was chief operator of the signal center there. He was at Aclak for 13 months, which was considered "isolated duty" and credited him with 36 months overseas. In April 1948 he returned to the States and from then until the time of his discharge in July he was stationed in Seattle.

Accounting Major

In the fall of 1948, Ed came to Clarkson where he registered in the Business Administration department, majoring in Accounting. Since that time he has made a name for himself at Clarkson, not only in scholastic achievement, but also in extra-curricular achievement. For his four years at Clarkson, Ed has been on the dean's list for several semesters, at least once each year. The time he missed was the semester he was "... courting my wife."

WNTC Manager

As for his extra-curricular activities, Ed was station manager of the campus station, WNTC, this past year, and was business manager last year. Last fall his name was submitted to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities and he was elected senior representative to the Board of Governors. This past year he was also on the Council of Student Organization which, with two other students and faculty, allotted the money necessary to run all student organizations. In May 1951, he was tapped for Phalanx, the senior honorary society of Clarkson.

Clarksonian Staff Member

During his sophomore and junior years he was a staff member of the Clarksonian. Also in his sophomore and junior years he was a member of the Accounting society and active chairman of the Outing Club. In his freshman year he was the president of the management society. During his sophomore year, Ed joined Sigma Delta fraternity, and for the last two years has been the director of "the house on the hill."

Preparing for CPA Exams

Ed expects to begin work on June 16 for Arthur Young and Co., Public Accountants and Auditors, 165 Broadway, New York City. Here he hopes to get his basic three years experience before applying for his CPA exams. After that he does not know if he will stay in public accounting or go into private industry.
